Need-Based Aid

Rice undergraduates who received need-based aid during the 2019-2020 academic year are eligible to receive 50% of summer tuition in institutional need-based aid. The Office of Financial Aid will determine need-based aid eligibility for Rice undergraduate students enrolled in summer courses. This form is only required if you are requesting federal or private educational loans.

Loan Request

To be eligible for federal loans students must be enrolled at least half time. For Rice undergraduates, half-time enrollment is 6 summer credit hours, and for Rice graduate students, it is at least 4.5 summer credit hours.

Total financial assistance for the summer term may not exceed tuition, mandatory fees, and summer living expenses. Rice estimates allowable summer living expenses to be up to $2,000 for a single 6- or 7-week summer session. For Rice students enrolled in the 10-week, 15-week, or multiple sessions, the estimated summer living expenses are up to $4,500.

Enter the number of hours you will be enrolled in for each summer session below. Financial aid is determined only for your enrolled summer courses. Any changes to enrollment must be reported to our office to update the financial aid awards.
